CORPORATE WARS

EARTH WALKER

IF we think about it, the one fact that is suppressed is that corporations start wars. Corporations manipulate governments to instigate and promote wars much like the marketing department of a business. I say business because war is the largest business on the planet. War destroys infrastructures what would otherwise be intact for perhaps hundreds of years unless someone or something has decided that this system of life is less valuable than another.

Corporations along with a central dispatch like the UN (United Nations) facilitate the selection and destruction of existing peoples, cities, states and governing bodies. Agents are sent to these areas to start the infighting so the people will be focused upon each other instead of the instigators. Once the infighting has begun, the UN directs military force comprised of multiple nations to branch of the UN to carry out "peace keeping" activities.

Once the existing structures and governing systems are unstable, a solution is offered to stabilize the country where outside puppet masters use a local popular figure as a talking head to disseminate the will of the corporation(s). Take a good look at Africa, the Mediterranean Area and Europe as they fall victim to the lies and propaganda forced upon them by the banking corporations who create debt out of thin air.

The one thing that stands out here is the fact that the people are separate from the situation as far as the responsibility of the actions taken by the corporations. The people did not create this corporate war climate but none the less are placed in a damned if you do, or damned if you don't situation where they are presented with a lose, lose choice. It appears to the people that there are only two choices. One may choose either to go along with the flow or resist.

A third choice not offered. It is always either... or... that is presented. This is the trap of the Television Stupor generated by the Corporate owned Mainstream Media. Everyone who watched the Tube, believes that they are in control at all times and are not brainwashed. If you mention that facts that they only buy what is offered them and that they are victims of product placement and consumerism they are programmed to deny it at first and then angrily insist that they are a free people and they can do whatever they want, anytime they want.

CORPORATE WARS

All one need do is tune in a news source from a different country to see and hear what they are saying about something that is happening in the world or to the United States to see the differences.... And there will be differences.

Most people are programmed to stay in their box, no matter what. This is the corporate compartmentalization of the masses which creates the easy manipulation of the masses by keeping everyone separated so no one knows the full story. This way the masses can be sold into slavery simply by turning on the lights they want to create an illusion of what is to be perceived by one group and then program a different group to respond. This creates the need for government intervention and clears the path for corporate exploitation.

Read the history of coca cola in central America to see what justification were used to corporatize the plantations and you will see the same mechanics at work time and time again as 3rd world countries and now modern countries are corrupted, dismantled and subjugated by debt for m the IMF, World Bankers, UN Military Intervention, and Occupation until the corporations are established by awarding them the contracts to first deconstruct a nation and then reconstruct it according to the "modern" plan of continued exploitation.

The people of these countries have done nothing to deserve the genocide and collateral damage resulting from the barbaric exploitation of their homeland. It is merely a business decision by the elitist which is implemented by the UN and executed by NATO, or some other such military arm of the world government. The truth of the matter is the world government has been around for countless years and no one has thought about it until recently.

Improved communications via internet and cell technology were sold to the people to fund the next exploitation of the masses. A calculated risk was assessed to allow a level of awareness to become evident to the masses as a vehicle for using the age old deconstruction methods. These are now in place to be used for the total deconstruction of the world so a massive control grid, which already exists, may be energized. The control grid is designed to withstand the general opposition of the masses and able to maintain an operational presence as long as the masses do not awaken too much.

The televised unrest in the African and Mediterranean areas is planned and being used to throw the masses into a state of shock so when it happens to them they will accept it as business as usual. The elitist tried to shut down destroy the morale by shutting down the grid but it backfired and the people have continued beyond their expectations. This was not planned for and a determined people rejected the corporate puppets that were magically produced by the corporatocracy.

One thing to remember, the non corporate world just wants to be able to live a good life, raise their family and be at peace. They are not a part of the corporate wars. The masses do however suffer the “collateral damage” caused as the corporate wars systematically terrorize and destroy their infrastructure by military invasion and the resulting genocide.

We do not have to accept, condone or support these corporate wars any longer. Feed the Dog You Want To Keep. Stand your ground. Hold what you’ve got and never give them consent to exploit you. These thugs will announce what they are going to do to you and then seek your consent. They must have your consent before they can do anything... DO NOT CONSENT to your own tyranny.
