

Culling The Herd, The Fleecing Of The Stock Market Pigeons?

By Duane Graham

EarthWalker

05 August 2011

OMG... the stock market plummeted 500 points yesterday ... it must be the end of the world...! NO... It is NOT the end of the world.... but... It is the beginning of the culling of the herd. This is the separation of you from your money.

You who actually thought you were running with the big dogs, huh? Well boys and girls, it is time for the real players to take your money and laugh all the way to the bank.

The wall street terrorists have you at their mercy because you actually believe them and think that you are getting something for nothing.... You still think the rules apply to everyone else but you... right? Well guess again you greedy little imps... you never did actually have the "money", you just had the illusion of having the money.

Do you honestly believe that you are going to be able to collect the virtual money that the bankers have projected on the screen? You should have taken your money to Las Vegas where you know the odds... The House Always Wins! The odds are and always have been against even the best of players... and if you consider that the majority of the "players" are armatures, it is some kind of miracle that anyone makes any money at all in the stock market. The best part of this entire fiasco is that some people have actually paid "experts" to lose their money. Why don't you just burn the money instead? I just shake my head in disbelief at this one. People... Stop letting wall street run your life.

The elitist and bankers have always manipulated the stock markets and No... you are NOT a "player" ... no matter how much stock you have or how much gold you own. If you really want to do something useful with your money, build something real. Stop playing against the "house" where the decks are always stacked against you and do something real with your money.

Do not invest in the housing market. Do not buy gold or silver. Stop betting on the financial future on wall street.... because it is all rigged. Make something that will benefit you and mankind. Invent something to make you life better. Write something to help people understand life in a more positive way. The best anyone can do is to help people help themselves. Change the way you look at your life. Live it differently and do it better.

It is time to stop listening to the elitist propaganda of the bankers, wall street and the insurance companies. Up until now, these "institutions" drive the consumerism trap. Can't you see that America was once the Consumerism Capital of the World and it was used as the engine, to feed the business whores and the beast? We are being deconstructed from this role and now, China and India are becoming the consumerism engines of the beast. The beast is world corporatocracy.

Now that the beast is identified, we must stop feeding it. Take control your own money. Keep your or spend your money and be responsible for it. It is a tool to be used to benefit you. You have earned it. Do not let mega corporations use it and then charge you for the use of your own money.

Business is the legalized "Art of Swindling"... are you a good swindler? Or are you tired of the lies, deception and corruption spawned by wall street and the bankers? If you want this to stop, all you need to do is take your money out of the stock markets and banks so you can use it to build something real.

If you need a loan, demand Simple Interest or a Signature Loan.... Do not take out compound interest loans for mortgages or car loans because they cost you about three times the asking price and the bankers make obscene profits. You will find that using a compound interest loan to buy a one hundred thousand dollar house, costs you about three hundred thousand dollars, by the time you pay it off.

Compound interest loans keep the masses enslaved to the "Company Store". The interest and fees are rigged so that you will never be able to pay them off because they always find a way to add a service charge, a fee or change the "policy" to take more and more of your money. The purpose of the company store is to keep you indebted and dehumanized so you will be at their mercy. You eventually end up with little or nothing while they say they lost your money when the market crashed.

Sorry, but only the monopolies win. They win because you play. So, Stop Playing a game you can never win.

The only way the real players like the Rockefellers, the Rothschild's the other elitist families can get their money is to use the bankers, the insurance companies and wall street "players" to inflate the market values over a period of time and then crash the market. You realize this usually after you have been ignorant enough to invest all of your money in the market and then lose it in a crash.

I find it amazing that you greedy little imps keep hitting yourselves in the thumb with that same old hammer time and time again, hoping for a different result... now that.... is insane!

If you can hear "moo" coming out of your own mouth as you are once again led down the chute, it is too late.

Remember, if you do not play the game, you do not lose the game and you do not have to walk down the chute.

EarthWalker