When We Watch The News.... We Are Watching Everyone Else's Karma Unfold

If we look at karma as the path a person travels throughout ones life we can see that a news program captures an excerpt of a person or peoples lives during a moment in their life and produces a "Timeclip" so you can watch their karmic moment unfold. Using these karmic Timeclips as mood setters and psychological modifiers, the programming of you begins.

All television programming is done in a similar way but some "programs" are intentionally designed for you to herd you into a particular state of mind and a predictable set of actions. It begins with consumerism and ends with political indoctrination. Of course you say this is not happening to you and you also know you are lying.

Look at what you buy and how you react to the news. Are you angry at the leaders for being stupid and ignorant while you drive your expensive car down the street to watch the next block buster movie? I guess it can't happen to you ... or has it?

No matter how macho you are or liberated you think you are... you buy the clothes, accessories, latest gadgets and status symbols because...? you are a "free" thinker and are in control of your life.. right? Why do you think they call it "Commercial TV"?

When you watch television, especially the news, you are lulled into a trance like state and pumped full of who to hate and who to love, every night, by the state run, banker controlled elitists. They orchestrate your every move. They cast your votes for you and cast your fate as you unconsciously accept the propaganda and see who to love and hate this week.

Why would "they" do such a thing? I wonder if you really believe you are a stock market player? "they" told you that you could run with the big dogs if you just buy gold and silver and this stock or that commodity didn't "they"? So as you play the "game", your fortune rises and falls a little, you see that you are okay and then you start pouring hard earned your cash into the market and you see that you are making a killing.. right up to the "big crash".

"They" have just run the best scam of the century on you and you still don't get it. You still think the "market" will come back and you will re-coupe your losses. Now tell me... isn't that great programming?! They have conned you into hitting yourself on the thumb with a hammer not only once but to repeatedly do it until you cannot do it anymore.... These guys are good! They have you thinking that you are smarter than they are and you are in control... They are laughing at your unconscious lack of control while you ignorantly sacrifice your life and family for ... ego, money and status.

This is all done to everyone by the mainstream media. If you watch it, hear it or read it, the formula based social engineering is transposed into your unconscious mind to manipulate you and your world. Your unconscious acceptance of this constantly streaming propaganda can be interrupted but you must decide that you want to be free of it.

Your PhD, your status in the guild or social position are all results of the programming you reacted to not free thinking as you have been brainwashed into believing. You have been institutionalized and your thinking is programmed to be afraid of going beyond your known universe. The fear of losing everything is instilled into you like a beaten dog fears its master so you must have courage.

You may begin by withholding consent. Do not consent to being programmed. Do not accept everything you see and hear as being fact or truth. When you watch the news, question everything. Question what the "authority" figures say, especially when you are aware of the demand that you need to believe something. Common sense tells you there is something wrong about someone insisting that you "do" anything.

Take a step back from the drama. Become the observer. Watch what is going on and if need be, you can act on the situation to create balance in your life instead of reacting to the constant turmoil of the ever changing rules and drama portrayed on the tube and on the screen. Acting with consciousness puts you in control of your life and removes the social engineer from the equation more and more as your consciousness expands.

Take a few minutes every day to stop the flurry of things that you call your life and just sit in silence. Turn off your phone, the TV, the iPod, all electronics and ... just sit... and listen to the silence.

Contemplate your own identity. Am I my name? Am I my job? Am I my family? Am I any of these things? Who is that person you have always known inside you? What am I? Am I a human being or am I more than that? Establish a perspective of yourself and change your perspective as you ask these contemplative questions.

Then... stop your contemplation and look for the flashes of insight as they appear. Your insights into your "self" are the one thing that the social engineers do not want you to know. If you "Know Thy Self" you do not need them... and they can no longer control you.

The journey to real freedom begins with your inward contemplation.
