CONNECTION

There is a common knowing between us. This sharing of an intimate knowledge of a past but also the present, as a being, is the acknowledgement of one who is in the transition between worlds. This knowing is the core of our existence and is the reason we have come here to Earth. It is to seek out the purpose for which we were born and the reason for our being.

These are ancient things, that are inside us, are the path we travel. It is not by chance that we exist now but by divine intervention. This divinity is the expression of peace and love in the highest consciousness. This consciousness is amplified in the connection between us and is transmitted throughout the universal plane. This transmission of consciousness creates a harmonic translation so the vibration of this world may be enhanced.

This enhancement shifts the energy from the lower vibrations to a higher resonance so that a separation between the worlds is established. The resonant frequencies penetrate all things and produce a sympathetic vibration that connects those who tune themselves to the new harmonic.

This tuning process is done by releasing the old ways of the cultures which dissolve the attachments to manmade ideologies. The detachment from this world releases us so that one may follow the sound current. This current is the inner sound that connects everyone who exists now to the higher consciousness and delivers us from the lower vibrations.

This is the moment of separation and is possible when beings no longer desire the ways of war and violence, greed and corruption. This is the path to the harmonic connection that changes the entire essence of our being so that we may transcend into that place we have always know.

Since we were children, we have known that we are not from this realm. We have sought to leave this place but did not understand why we were born into this world. Now we must understand that this life is the completion of a conscious transition into a world that is more compatible with our true being. This transition is an automatic unfolding that will blossom into harmony and beauty that cannot be expressed with mere words. We may now understand that our divine harmony is not in time or space but in consciousness.

This consciousness is not intellect or earthly. No matter what the manmade teachings offer, there are none to compare to the inner journey to higher consciousness. Consciousness cannot be measured by technology nor can it be contained by manmade vessels. This consciousness penetrates all things that exist and all things that do not exist. This is because it simply, is.

This consciousness is “the knowing” with which we were born. We are all to connect with this part of our being so that we may now leave this lower vibrational world to seek and merge into ours.

There is nothing in this realm that can keep you here. We are free to realize our fullest potential. We are free to be. This is the detachment from this world and yet it is the connection to the knowing that resides in each one of us.

There is only now... The zero moment that is the gateway to the truth and the door to our true home.
